Election polls open Monday; two in VP race

by Linda Wagner

For the third time in one year, students will return to the polls Monday to elect Eastern's new student government financial vice president.

During this special election, sophomore Tammy Walker and senior Grant Sterling will vie for the position left vacant after John Cole resigned July 30 to accept a job offer in Chicago.

Elections committee co-chairman Becky Tichenor said the polls will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The Union Ballroom will be the voting site for students living off-campus and in the North Quad. Residents in the South Quad and Carman Hall will vote at the Coleman Hall southeast stairwell, Tichenor said.

In order to vote, students must show a validated ID card, she added.

The Student Government is not a stranger to special elections as the second special election within one year for a new financial vice president takes place.

There have been three previous vice presidents within the past year that have either resigned or graduated. When senior Gail Redeker resigned Jan. 18 because of time conflicts, a special election was conducted and Jeff Hunt was elected.

Hunt graduated this spring leading to the election of Cole during the general student government elections last April.

One of the main duties of the financial vice president is to serve as the chairperson for the Apportionment Board and to keep all financial records.

The financial vice president presides at all AB meetings and requests for funds from various fee-funded groups are sent to this office.

In addition, the newly elected official must provide the Student Senate with weekly financial reports and an annual audit.

Election results will be announced at a special meeting of the senate scheduled for 9 p.m. Monday in the Union addition Arcola-Tuscola room.

Appellate Court candidate faces toughest jury-voters

by Kevin McDermott

Mary Lee Leahy has argued her case in every arena from the Governor's office to the Illinois Constitutional Convention to the U.S. Supreme Court.

But on Nov. 6, Leahy will face her toughest jury—the voters of Illinois.

Leahy is the Democratic candidate for Fourth District Appellate Court judge. There are currently 61 appellate court seats in Illinois. If elected, Leahy will double the number of women in those seats from one to two.

"When I got out of law school in 1966, there were six women out of a class of 139, and that was considered high," she said. "I'm not running just because I'm a woman, but I think it's about time women had representation on the appellate court level."

The Fourth Appellate Court is based in Springfield and encompasses 1.3 million people and 30 counties, including Coles.

Leahy and her Republican opponent, Circuit Court Judge John McCullough, are vying for one of five seats on the court left vacant by the retirement of Justice Harold F. Trapp.

Leahy is currently practicing law with her husband Andrew in the Springfield lawfirm of Leahy and Leahy.

Since receiving her law degree from the University of Chicago in 1966, she practiced law for three years before becoming involved in politics during the Sixth Illinois Constitutional Convention in 1969.

"At the Illinois Constitutional Convention, I was the chief sponsor of the environmental article," Leahy said. "When I started in the convention, I couldn't get very many people to sign on. When it finally came to the floor, the article passed and went into the constitution."

Following her victory at the convention, then-Gov. Dan Walker asked her to serve as director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, and later as his liaison with the EPA and five other state departments.

Other highlights in Leahy's career include her successful part in a landmark U.S. Supreme Court case, and a run-in with Chicago Mayor Richard Daley.

"I was one of the attorneys representing the challenge delegation that unseated the Daley delegation in the 1972 Democratic Convention," she said. However, she could not attend the convention. "The Democrats from Chicago would not vote for my confirmation."

But Leahy's biggest victory was the landmark Pickering case, in which she laid out the theory which led to a unanimous U.S. Supreme Court decision overturning a 76-year-old legal precedent.

The case began in 1964, when teacher Marvin Pickering was fired for criticizing the school board in a local newspaper.

"We took it all the way to the Supreme Court in 1968," Leahy said. "The Court held that Marvin Pickering had the right to freedom of speech just like every other citizen."

"There was an 1892 decision out of Massachusetts which said that a public employee surrenders his First Amendment rights when he becomes a public employee," she continued. "The Pickering decision overturned that."

Although Leahy has never served on a court before, she does not see that as a disadvantage.

"A majority of the Illinois Supreme Court judges have never served on a trial court," she said. "U.S. Supreme Court Justice (Warren) Burger has never served on a trial court. Justice (Earl) Warren before Burger had never served on a trial court. It's certainly not considered a requirement."

She added that she believes the appellate court can influence trial courts to solve some of the problems she has seen with Illinois' judicial system.

"I think there are a lot of problems on the trial court level in terms of getting certain kinds of cases through," she said, making references to judges who stretch divorce and child custody cases over extended periods of time. "That's a tremendous stress on the client, and it increases the expense. I certainly think the appellate court could bring some strong suggestions to the trial courts about how they handle certain types of cases."

Leahy also sees problems with the way today's lawyers view their responsibility to society.

107 sentenced in overthrow plot

CAIRO, Egypt—A Judge sentenced 107 Moslem extremists to prison Sunday but acquitted 174 others accused of trying to overthrow the Egyptian government following the assassination of President Anwar Sadat in 1981.

The white-robed defendants chanted slogans such as "Egyptians wake up!" and "No to America, no to Israel!" before Chief Judge Abdel-Ghaffar Ahmed read the sentences amid tight security in a makeshift courtroom on Cairo's fairgrounds.

Former army intelligence officer Lt. Col. Abboud el-Zomor, was sentenced to "life" imprisonment at hard labor.

O'Hare airport expansion in peril

CHICAGO—Three months after Mayor Harold Washington and his City Council foes fired the first shots in their latest power struggle, the conflict is about to claim its most costly casualty—the expansion of the world's busiest airport.

The latest dispute between the mayor and his opponents—over who has authority to award large city contracts is threatening to stop work on the $1.4 billion expansion of O'Hare International Airport, unless both sides settle the matter Monday at a council meeting.

Gas plant fire causes evacuation

BASILE, La.—A fire raged out of control though a natural gas processing plant Sunday, forcing hundreds from their homes and threatening the entire rural complex, authorities said.

"They're evacuating everybody in the area. They think it is getting ready to blow," said Hubert Johnson, an officer with the Basile Police Department.

No injuries were reported.

Kyle LeBoeuf, with the Eunice Police Department, eastimated between 200 to 300 people had been evacuated from homes in the area.

Reagan-Gromyko talks 'positive'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State George P. Shultz said Sunday that the opportunity for holding productive negotiations with Moscow has been improved, but he declined to characterize last week's talks between President Reagan and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko as "very positive."

"Not very positive—sober and intense," is the way Shultz said he would describe the Reagan-Gromyko meeting, as well as two separate sessions he held with Gromyko.

In an appearance on ABC-TV's This Week with David Brinkley, Shultz said that as a result of the nearly nine hours of talks, "the chances of a more constructive dialogue with the Soviet Union...are reasonably good."

He said the two sides agreed "to keep in touch, carefully and systematically" though diplomatic channels and that such contacts would make it possible to negotiate solutions to some problems.

In another televised interview Sunday, Robert

C. McFarlane, the presidents' national security adviser, said it would probably take a couple of months for the Soviets to decide their response to Reagan's proposals for the regular high contacts focusing on arms control and other issues.

"The Soviets progress is a very deliberate one, and they've had a lot to chew on after this week, so it will take some time," McFarlane said on CBS's Face the Nation.

Former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, questioned on the same program, said serious negotiations probably could begin late this year or sometime next year.

"For them to turn their machinery around is usually a rather laborious process," said Kissinger, a prime architect of detente with the Soviet Union during the Nixon administration.

Shultz predicted there will be follow-up consultations at the ambassadorial level in Washington and Moscow to decide plans for specific meetings on specific issues.

Government solvent due to bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators took a breather Sunday from an increasingly bitter tug-of-war over civil rights legislation that has stalled action on an emergency money bill to keep most of the federal government solvent.

The impasse made it impossible for Congress to meet a midnight Sunday deadline—the end of the 1984 fiscal year—for enacting the omnibus bill and raised doubts about whether lawmakers can stick to their plan to adjourn for the year by the end of this week.

The bill is needed to provide most government agencies with about $476 billion for the new fiscal year. Only four of 13 necessary appropriations for the fiscal year 1985 have been signed into law.

To avert a shutdown of departments and agencies, the Senate took time out from a procedural snarl on Saturday to pass by voice vote a simple two-day extension of the deadline. The House is expected to go along Monday.

The White House Office of Management and Budget previously told government offices that all employees should report for work as scheduled on Monday.

While the stopgap measure keeping the money flowing though Tuesday would buy some time to avert a disruption of government operations, it does nothing to untangle the mess in the Senate.

Butler: Executive commission selected; President appoints ministries

by Charlotte Arnold

The year 1984 arrived without many of the sweeping changes that George Orwell prophesied in his book, "1984."

However, the horrors of "1984" are closer than most students realize, according to Eastern Student Body President Joe Butler.

Adhering to the governmental framework found in the book, Butler recently created four ministries to serve as his executive commission. His plan includes the ministries of truth, peace, love and plenty.

"It is 1984 this year, Ronald Reagan has implemented much of what is in this book, and I thought I would go along," Butler said.

Butler has appointed freshman Chris Constance as Minister of Plenty, sophomore Jimmy Martinez as Minister of Peace, senior Jack Palmer as Minister of Love and senior Graham Lewis as Minister of Truth. Lewis formerly served as Butler's high minister of propaganda.

"I want the student body to think about '1984'. It's an excellent book," Butler said. Palmer added, "This will also make them aware of all government."

Butler announced his plan at the Sept. 19 Student Senate meeting. He characterized the senators' response as "stoney-faced silence."

Executive Vice-President Angelynn Richardson said she was "disgusted."

"I take my job very seriously. It's not a joke, and the more people realize this, the better off we'll be," she noted.

Aaron Shepley, Board of Governor's representative, said, "Some senators were upset (at the announcement). We've had a pretty bad image lately, and he's making it worse."

Shepley added, "His joke from last semester is wearing off, and he just wants to get more attention."

Senate Speaker Ron Wesel refused to comment on Butler's commission or the appointments.

Butler explained, "These organs are autonomous from the senate." Although the senators reacted negatively, "I don't care how people will take it," he said.

According to the student government constitution, the powers of the president include creating "executive commissions when deemed necessary" to "assist in carrying out executive policy."

Butler noted that his reasoning for creating the commission was to make students aware of the government.

In a general outline of his plan, Butler defined the duties of his commissions.

The outline states that the Ministry of Peace will wage "brutal warfare" and "exercise totalitarian control over all facets of campus life."

Also, Butler's outline states that the Ministry of Love will work in cooperation with the truth ministry to keep justice.

In addition, the outline said that, under the guidance of the High Minister of Love, a Junior Anti-Sex League will be formed to report any sexual acts.

Butler said the Love Minister will "take whatever action necessary to correct the problem."

The outline also states that the Ministry of Plenty "shall satiate all desires," as determined by the truth ministry.

The Minister of Truth is charged with "eliminating all lies against the empire, employing any means thought necessary."

However, Lewis said these measures won't be necessary because "people will see the light."

In an official press release from the Ministry of Truth, Lewis states, "Being that we are divine, it follows a priori (as a fact) that our power is of divine nature. Our truth is irrefutable."

Another press release relates the "ontological proof for the existence and divinity of Joe Butler (as student body president)."

Over Butler's desk hangs a sign with a quote transcribed from Shakespeare's Caius Caligula, the fourth Caesar of Rome: "I have existed from the morning of the word, I shall exist until the last star falls from the heavens. Although I have taken the form of Joe Butler, I am all men as I am no man. Thus, I am a god."

Carmichael resigns as TAC director

by Veronica Adermann

After spending 6½ years over-seeing the operation of Eastern's Tarble Arts Center, Director Don Carmichael is resigning.

Carmichael, whose resignation takes effect Dec. 31, said he is looking forward to having more time to spend pursuing his career as an artist.

David Buchanan, TAC director search committee chairman, said the deadline for applying for the position of TAC director is Oct. 12.

So far, the committee has received 14 applications, he added.

Search committee members include James K. Johnson, chairman of Eastern's art department, Shelia Heath of Robinson, Eugene Hogan, manager of Anaconda Metal Co., Betty Ronchetti of Mattoon and Judge Aston Waller of Charleston.

Buchanan said the committee met this summer to draw up details of how the search would be conducted.

The committee will meet Oct. 12 to review search credentials and to begin narrowing down the list of applicants.

The candidates who are selected will be invited to Eastern's campus for interviews during the first week of November, he said.

Buchanan said he hopes to have the new director assume his responsibilities Jan. 1, 1985.

The director will be responsible for supervising the curator of educational exhibits, support personnel and major volunteer programs, fiscal management, fund raising and collection development and public relations and community outreach programs.

Buchanan said if the candidate selected can't begin his duties in January, the TAC could "get along without a director for a few months."

"We want the best person we can find for the job," Buchanan said.

Before he began working at the TAC, Carmichael was a former head of the Department of Art at Union University and field agent for Arts and Development for the Tennessee Arts Commission.

Eastern study dissects a cure from 'disease'

Eastern administrators can view the university's recent self-study as a road map that could help direct the future of its academic instruction along a course of improvement.

For years, administrators have wrestled with this campus' underfunded/overenrolled disease.

Editorial

On one hand, the Illinois Board of Higher Education keeps telling Eastern administrators that this school's enrollment is too high to provide every student an adequate education based on Eastern's funding level.

On the other hand, Eastern administrators keep telling the IBHE that although enrollment has steadily increased over the past six years, Eastern has been drastically underfunded.

The IBHE says cut back on enrollment; Eastern says it needs more funds. While the two sides are slowly reaching a compromise—Eastern received a lofty $2.3 million increase for Fiscal Year 1985 and enrollment has dropped by 120 students—students and faculty are forced to deal with this disease via their pocketbooks.

The recent self-study, prepared for Eastern's re-accreditation team visit in November, recommends a simple, but important, remedial cure.

Eastern must find ways to increase its funding by better tapping its own sources, and the school got off to a fine start this year when the first full-time development director was hired.

Charles Ross appropriately has been given the job of increasing such viable "in-house" fund sources as alumni donations, planned gifts from wills and university investments.

While such fund increases won't fatten faculty paychecks or deflate student tuition bills, it will provide money for internal research grants and items designated by the donor.

And until the underfunded/overenrolled disease is at least put into remission, Eastern must continue its effort to find ways of ballooning a budget that the IBHE and Gov. Jim Thompson have not been able to increase enough.

Some 'bright' ideas

Editor:

We read the story about the attack on the girl near the Fine Arts Building with anger, but not with great surprise. However, we were surprised to read the quote from Chief Larson.

"It's not an area where we expected an incident of this kind to happen," he said.

Security has been lax in the past at that particular building. In addition, lighting is poor and definitely inadequate. As art students, we have had many occasions to stay late in the evening to work on projects. Security checks are inconsistent.

There have been instances in which students have had night passes from instructors and have been locked outside the building and someone would be there shortly to let them in. In at least one instance, "shortly" resulted in a 20-minute wait, alone, by the Fine Arts Building.

In another instance, security personnel urged a student to keep the door to an art room locked for safety. Unfortunately, this particular room in which she was working did not even have an operational lock!

We heartily agree with Kevin McDermott's column of Sept. 19 stressing the need for better lighting, additional security and public awareness. Let us hope that these recommendations are speedily adopted.

Film entices rapists

Editor:

No one is unaware of the rising problem of sexual assaults in this area. The student government, Campus Police, Eastern administration, Residence Hall Association and Coles County Women Against Rape have diligently worked to solve this problem.

There have been proposed solutions such as the Buddy Buttons, self-defense classes, the selling of rape whistles, the hiring of night assistants, rape awareness programs, the security escort service and the "Don't Take Chances on Campus" booklets distributed in the residence halls.

All these efforts are in vain when the University Board sponsors a triple-x movie such as "The Opening of Misty Beethoven" shown Monday night in the Union, advertising the movie as "a classic piece of erotica," and "highly erotic."

What better way to amuse Joe Rapist than to show him what he wants to see? Do you think the few extra dollars made were worth the possible forfeit of our security?

Easy to prove that death is no vacation

Recently, I called the dean of student services to obtain an excused absence due to a death in my immediate family.

The voice at the other end of the phone, without hesitating, said, "Come into the office when you get back and bring some sort of proof of the death."

I was completely taken aback. Proof? I was upset enough before that heartless comment.

Yet, after pondering the situation, I realized that the cold need for proof was not the fault of the dean's office, but rather, the fault of dozens of students over the years who have asked for excuses due to "a death in the family."

Perhaps some of you have even used that line before.

Unfortunately, because of some thoughtless students, the student services' office has had to resort to asking for proof in the form of a newspaper obituary.

Although proof was easy enough to produce, that comment made an already difficult day even harder for me.

College students are supposed to be adult enough to make their own decisions. If a student feels like blowing off a couple days of classes, it is his decision. It should not, however, be his right to use a fake death in the family to cover up for his vacation.

Recently, an Eastern instructor told her class that while she was in college, she had three grandmothers die, but she noted that both of hers are still alive today.

Personal file:

Nancy Yamin

Okay, maybe that seems funny. But, it is not humorous for someone who is suffering because of a death. It is humiliating. It's humiliating to have to prove that someone close has actually died.

I am not suggesting that the dean's office loosen up the excused absence policy. The dean has a job to do and must do it.

However, those students who have wrongly and coldly claimed that "family members" passed away need to be a bit more considerate.

Student services dean James Johnson cannot trust anyone's word—he must have proof. That is a shame.

I don't know if there is a solution to the proof problem. Johnson cannot just stop asking for proof, too many people would take advantage of it.

Yet, a family death remains difficult to deal with. It is a serious matter, not an easy excuse for a couple days away from school. Having to prove such a death is even more difficult.

Believe me, if you've ever been in this situation, I think you'll agree that you would have much rather been at school.

New units to cool Booth

by Steven Sittner

Two air conditioning units, which were ordered to replace Booth Library's old system, have arrived and will be installed soon, although the exact date of installation has not been set.

Martin Ignazito, physical plant superintendent, said the two new units, which are air-cooling rather than water-cooling, are designed to restore operation to the present system.

"It will be cheaper to install these new systems than to repair the broken water lines in the present system, which are underground," Ignazito said.

He said plans are being made to have a helicopter lower the units on to the roof of the library, where they will be located.

Ignazito added the system should be operational by the end of October, but it will not be used until next spring and summer.

The units, ordered from R.H. Bishop Company of Champaign, cost Eastern $41,716 to install and begin operation.

Everett Alms, physical plant director, said the units were ordered last summer after the system's water-cooled condensers ruptured last May.

Funds for the replacement were appropriated this summer by the Board of Governors.

Working to bring comedian or music group to Eastern

by Lisa Green

The University Board has made offers to The Fixx and George Carlin to perform at Eastern, UB Chairman Floyd Akins said at Thursday's meeting.

UB made offers to both in hopes that one of the acts would accept.

The UB's contract offer for The Fixx expires at midnight Oct. 1. The offer to Carlin is for a Nov. 29 appearance.

Akins said Sunday the UB will probably know whether The Fixx will make an appearance no later than Tuesday.

"By then we'll definitely know something because that's when our deadline expires," he said.

In addition, another executive seat on the UB has become vacant with the resignation of Concert Coordinator John Karol.

Akins said the board plans to ask students interested in applying for the coordinator position for resumes. He said a deadline will be set for returning the resumes and after the resumes have been reviewed, the UB will interview potential candidates for the coordinator position.

"We should be doing the advertising for that (position) within the week," Akins said.

Sophomore Brian Landis, Karol's assistant, will be acting concert coordinator until the position is filled.

In addition, the human potential committee will sponsor a Jackson Five Impersonation show at 8 p.m. Oct. 9 in the Grand Ballroom, coordinator Annette Green said.

In addition, Jay Hagberg, public relations coordinator, said 1,714 "Eventsful" calendars have been sold. He added the sales will continue at the Union Box Office until the remaining 86 "Eventsfuls" have been sold.

Derby Days fund raiser closes; earnings to be announced later

by John Best

Sigma Chi Derby Days ended Saturday with an all-greek party at the Waterworks Park located south of Charleston.

Sigma Chi treasurer, Tony Sarallo said Saturday the fraternity was hoping to raise $1,500 to $2,000. However, Sarallo said the fraternity will not know until later this week exactly how much was raised.

Derby Days is an annual fund raiser sponsored by Eastern's Sigma Chi fraternity and sororities to raise money for the Wallace Village for Children in Brunfield, Col. The week of events included volleyball tournaments, sidewalk painting, and a Derby Darling beauty contest.

The new Derby Darling queen is Gail Richardson from the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority.

Sarallo estimated that 600 people attended the party Saturday, which was the finale of the week's activities.

The Sigma Kappa sorority received a trophy for winning the most points from participating in various events.

Blacks seek political gain from Jackson's campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Black political leaders, trying to capitalize on the excitement that fueled the Rev. Jackson's unprecedented presidential campaign, have set their sights on carving out a larger political share for blacks at all levels.

When they came to Washington last week for the Congressional Black Caucus meetings, Walter Mondale's campaign for the presidency and the defeat of Ronald Reagan were high on the agenda.

While Jackson and other black leaders affirmed their support for Mondale, they indicated they want to expand their agenda beyond the presidential contest to winning more elected offices for blacks.

"I think the way we measure our progress is in terms of increased political involvement by the black community. We don't measure it in terms of any particular candidacy or party," said Rep. William Gray, D-Pa.

Most analysts are predicting a heavy black voter turnout in November. In 1980 there were 16 million eligible blacks, of whom 10 million were registered and 8 million voted. Various groups engaged in voter registration have set a target of adding two million new black voters to the rolls.

Jackson noted that if blacks are to achieve a better return for their voting investments, even some liberal allies may be displaced. There are 85 congressional districts, for example, where black compose 20 percent or more of the population.

"There are about seven more seats that belong to us, and some of us are choosing buddies over our brothers and sisters," he said. "Don't cozy up to your buddy (Rep Porter) Rodino in New Jersey. He's a good man. But we need the seat."

Rodino defeated the Rev. Arthur S. Jones, a black, in the June 5 primary.

Jackson called for a record black voter turnout, noting that more than 1,000 blacks are running for office at all levels. And he sought to overcome any lingering resentment against Mondale.

"It ain't about personalities and how you feel. Our backs are against the wall," he said. "We must have the maturity to put our politics above our personal ties and our feelings."

Rep. Julian Dixon, D-Calif., caucus chairman, said he expects Jackson's campaign to pay dividends in two to four years.

He has helped open up the Democratic Party,"

Dixon said. "His campaign has served as a coordinating effort to make black politics much more effective at the state and local level."

CHAMPAIGN—For Eastern's cross country teams the return trip from Champaign and the Illinois Invitational was a long one.

The Panther men placed a dismal eighth out of an 11-school field. Eastern's 237 team points were well off the winning score of 51 by host Illinois.

"Although I'm a little disappointed with our showing, when one looks at the competition we faced in this meet, we didn't perform too badly," coach Tom Akers said.

Senior Nick Whiteside finished 29th overall with a time of 31:39, while senior Scott Pillsbury's 32:26 clocking earned him 45th position.

Senior Scott Tracy established a personal best 32:44 as he covered the 10-kilometer course in 52nd place.

Freshman Dale Righter, who has been one of the Panthers' steadiest runners this season, was tripped up during the race and was unable to continue.

"Dale went down like a rock," Akers said. Righter, however, sustained no damaging injury.

Only Bradley University kept Eastern's varsity women from hitting rock-bottom Saturday in the Illinois Invitational.

The Lady Panthers amassed a season-high total of 362 team points placing them 12th in the 13-team race.

"The most awesome teams in the Midwest showed up to make this a super-duper meet," coach Dan Lowery said.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers plowed their way to the team championship with 76 points. Missouri's Andrea Fishcher burned up the 5,000-meter course in a remarkable time of 16:31 to stake the individual title.

Junior Erin Healy was the first Panther to place, turning in a personal best 18:56 timing to finish 63rd.

Freshman Lisa Jostes likewise ran the best race of her career, placing 68th by running at a 19:09 clip.

"Lisa has come a long way this season," Lowery said.

Junior Anne Ogle was 73rd overall by crossing the finish line at 19:19.

Sophomore Janine Jarris, 20:04, edged out junior Anne Sanderson, 20:05, for 91st place.

"I think we really gained some valuable experience in the meet," Lowery said. "I'm really glad we ran in such a tough event—somewhere down the road this could pay off."

Spikers take two of five at tourney

by Joseph Anglum

HOUSTON, Texas—Eastern's women's volleyball squad suffered devastating losses this weekend to National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics members Southwestern Texas and Texas Lutheran at the Rice Classic in Houston, Texas.

Eastern opened the tournament by defeating host and tournament champion Rice 5-15, 15-10 and 15-13.

However, in their second match Friday afternoon against Texas Tech, the Panthers found the competition a bit more than they anticipated as the Red Raiders slipped by Eastern 15-8, 3-15 and 10-15.

The loss left Eastern with a 1-1 record heading into Friday night's finale against Southwestern Texas.

Senior co-captain Donna Uhler led the Panther attack against the NAIA school as she had 18 kills and no errors in 42 attempts for an unprecedented .429 attack percentage.

Uhler's effort proved to be in vain as the Pirates handed the Panthers their second defeat of the evening 15-13, 10-15 and 13-15.

"We're were very competitive with all the teams here tonight," Ralston said.

Saturday morning's match against Texas Lutheran was more than a pleasant way to start the day for the Panthers. The NAIA member school defeated the Panthers in two games 7-15 and 8-15.

"I think they were the best team in the tournament," Ralston said. "They've been to the nationals seven out of the last 12 years."

The Panthers did manage to win their last game of the tournament by thrashing New Orleans University 15-13 and 15-8.

Against New Orleans, junior Lori Berger had seven kills and no errors in 14 attempts in accumulating an .500 attack percentage.

The Panthers ended up with a 2-3 record at the tournament bringing their season record to 9-9. However, there were several bright spots for the Panthers.

For the tournament, April Deer had 20 kills, five errors in 46 attempts, 70 assists and 33 digs. Ironically, Deer had been benched a week earlier for disciplinary reasons.

"I was very pleased with the way April played the entire tournament," Ralston said. "She was our most consistent performer and she will definitely be a factor in conference play."

Berger also had an impressive tournament. She had 26 kills, four errors in 65 attempts and seven aces for an .276 attack percentage.

Overall, Ralston was pleased with her squads performance at the tournament.

"Except for the Texas Lutheran match, we could of won any of the matches," Ralston said.

Eastern continues play this weekend at the Loyola Lakeshore Classic.

Letdown doesn't stop Panthers in 44-33 win

by Jeff Long

Somehow, Eastern's 44-33 victory Saturday over Ferris State didn't turn out like it was supposed to. Yes, the Panthers won, but it certainly was not in convincing fashion.

Although a win is a win no matter how you slice it, Eastern got the scare of its early season from the lowly Bulldogs, before putting the contest away in the fourth quarter.

Ferris State, which slipped to 1-3, had entered Saturday's game having scored only 12 points in its three previous games. The Bulldogs had been outscored by an average of 34-4 in those games.

Eastern, on the other hand, was picked to be the prohibitive favorite, with its explosive passing game and a more talented team.

But that all went out the window Saturday, and the two teams played as though they were long-time rivals.

"Everything pointed toward Eastern blowing out Ferris State," Panther head coach Al Molde said. "When you hear that all week you're conditioned into thinking that will happen, and the net result was that we had to struggle to win."

"There's no way I can fault our players for not being up for this game," he continued. "They heard it (blowout) all week from the students and the media that we were set up for this to happen. There was no way to get around it."

However, there was no letdown for Eastern offensively. For the fifth straight game, the Panthers passed for over 300 yards, only this time they also established a rushing attack.

Halfback DuWayne Pitts, who was called to duty due to injuries to Bernard Holland and Roy Ellis, performed admirably, rushing for 83 yards on 14 carries as the Panthers racked up 117 yards on the ground. Both are season highs for Eastern this year.

"We came into this game wanting to establish our running game and have a more balanced offense," Pitts said.

Eastern's Jim Schmidt (81) and Ferris State's Danny Milan (80) go for a deflected pass Saturday in the Panther's 44-33 victory at O'Brien Stadium. The pass fell incomplete on the play. (News photo by Kelly J. Huff)

"Today the hogs blocked and we just ran with it, and when we got our running game established, that opened it up for the pass."

Quarterback Sean Payton again hit the magic 300, connecting on 14 of 28 attempts for 303 yards and three touchdowns before leaving early in the fourth quarter with Eastern up 37-19.

"Our offense executed well—we moved the ball up and down the field all day," Molde said. "We had some failures at the goal line, but that will happen."

Eastern's defense, which has now allowed 71 points in the last two games, helped the offensive cause Saturday, returning two interceptions for touchdowns—a 52-yard return by Dan Fallon in the first quarter and an 11-yard runback by James Boyd late in the fourth quarter.

But the Bulldogs, behind freshman quarterback Dave DenBraber, moved the ball at will against the Panthers all day.

"It's tough to get up every week, especially after such an emotional game last week," said defensive tackle Randy Harms, who recorded a game-high 14 tackles. "The defense was flat, but we didn't play as bad as the score indicates."

DenBraber picked the Panther defense apart, completing 28 of 39 for 336 yards, while running back Ladon Pree racked up 135 yards rushing on 26 attempts, including an 80-yard touchdown jaunt in the first quarter.

"Their quarterback did a nice job," Molde said. "And number 21 really hurt us—he caught a lot of balls out there."

Number 21 is Ferris State receiver Chris Floyd, who burned Eastern's secondary for 16 receptions and 225 yards.

"They nicked and dined us to death," Harms said. "They made a lot of little drives, but we made the big plays defensively."

But when it was all over, every Panther had to breathe a sigh of relief. They had achieved their top priority, which of course was to win the game.

"I've seen this happen 10 or 12 times in my career," Molde concluded. "The heavy favorite struggles and the underdog plays over their head."

Weekend becomes a matter of survival for booters

by Brent Feeney

The soccer Panthers had two tough games over the weekend, but as it ended up, both games turned out to be matters of survival.

Friday night, Eastern scored two quick goals in the first ten minutes against Wisconsin, then had to hold on for dear life as the Panthers scored a 2-1 win over the Badgers.

Then, Eastern and the Air Force had to settle for a 1-1 overtime tie at home Sunday in a match that featured five yellow warning cards and two red ejection cards.

"It really wasn't a fun game," Panther coach Cizo Mosnia said after the draw on Sunday. "Air Force came in very physical, and I think we were intimidated by that."

Both teams played well today," Air Force coach Luis Sagastume said. "Unfortunately, the referees hindered the game both ways. The fans didn't come out to see the refs, they came out to see the players."

As for Friday night's game at Camp Randall Stadium in Madison, Wis., Mosnia said, "We didn't play very well up there, either. We got off to a quick start, then got intimidated. Things aren't going as well as I had hoped. We still have some things we need to work on."

Guy Callipari started things out very quickly Friday as he scored off an assist from Neil Swindells at 3:06 to get the Panthers to a 1-0 lead. Ozzie Mollinari then got into the act just over three minutes later, when Greg Oidman found him with a feed for a 2-0 lead, which the Panthers held on to at halftime.

But the Badgers scored at 55:07 to cut the lead in half, forcing Eastern to play defensively, which they did successfully.

Sunday afternoon, Swindells found Callipari with a chip, which Callipari parked into the upper left hand corner of the net to give the Panthers a 1-0 lead with 4:49 elapsed.

But some confusion in the defensive end enabled the Falcons' Dennis Ryan to put a ball away at 13:35, drawing the match level at 1-1.

As the game wore on, play began to get increasingly rough, leading to Swindells' ejection at 42:51 for violent conduct. Later on, the Falcons' Dale Bennett would also be ejected for violent conduct at 109:35.

Swindells' ejection made him ineligible for the next Panther match, which will be against Southern Illinois-Edwardsville at the Governor's Cup Tournament Saturday at Northern Illinois.
